The DIMMER VIEW

Bureaus Go in Filipino Revolt

The unsuccessful revolution in the Philippines, followed by President Ferdinand E. Marcos invoking martial law should not be ignored by citizens of the United States.

The revolution is partly blamed on the nation's flagging economy which is said to be controlled by about five per cent of the citizens who own 90 per cent of the wealth. A portion of the populace are peasants employed by landowners. There are some who are unemployed and many are undernourished.

This situation doesn't exist in the United States. But unnumbered government bureaus do just as in the Philippines, and it is about these that attention is directed.

But, first, the revolution.

President Marcos is in the seventh year of two four-year terms. He can not succeed himself in office. A popular figure in the opposition party was a strong candidate for the post. A suspicious revolution took place late last month in which no one was captured nor injured. But it encouraged Marcos to declare a state of martial law. He contended the Maoist New People's Army were leaders of a conspiracy and purged his nation of several citizens—including the leader of the opposition Liberation Party. Many insist that he contrived the "revolution" as a basis for his actions.

Then in a little noted action, he purged the nation of some 500,000 civil service employees by ordering their dismissal "to rid the Philippine bureaucracy of corrupt and unneeded civil servants."

Marcos recognized the federal civil service problem in the Philippines. The problem has a larger counterpart in the United States. This sector of government has become so big and potent that much of government is controlled by them instead of those elected or appointed to do it.

Martial law permitted Marcos to take whatever action deemed necessary to preserve the state. He knew that members of the bureaus could thwart his plans. He also knew that more than 50% of the Filipino budget is in salaries to civil servants. So he ordered all 500,000 of them fired and on October 15 he will permit rehiring on a selective basis.

In his message he said "we must now first clean up, remove the corrupt, the inefficient, the ignorant (civil servant) as well as those who are not essential or necessary to government functions." He knew he could not run the government until he controlled this group.

A couple of years ago a study appeared in a national magazine in which it was indicated that bureau directors in the United States could not put into practice new or innovative programs without the tacit approval of the civil servants who work in the nation's myriad bureaus. Those who attempted to override permanent parties found memos arriving days late, or lost; messages "inadvertently" garbled; key personnel becoming ill at critical periods, and deadline and emergency commitments being usually unmet. The department operation became office chaos.

One civil servant in a burst of candor said of his newly appointed director, "we'll let him have his way to see where he thinks he's headed. But then we'll have to get him straightened out."

And why not, he asks. "We may have as many as 10 directors during the lifetime of our jobs. A new election brings a new boss and we're left here to clean up the old one's mess."

There is a small but growing group of Americans who are exploring the possibility of a "benign" dictatorship for the United States for a limited period of time. During this time some of the political attachments to our government—mostly unneeded and unwanted bureaus and their attendant civil servants—would be dissolved. The power of the dissolved bureaus would again be vested in responsible officials.

But Marcos, possibly encouraged by his love for authority, announced that martial law might be continued for two years—or as long as necessary.

That is the danger inherent in a "benign" dictatorship or any other kind. Marcos proved the old axiom that he who savors power becomes a slave to its taste.

The merits of the Philippine operation are not disputed here. When the nation again emerges under the canopy of democracy or becomes a dictatorship following its siege with martial law, it will have fewer bureaus to reckon with.

But during the transition it is shown that bureaus can bog down any kind of government.

This is the moral that the Filipinos will to the American.

Otay District Gets Grant Of Half Million for Sewers

The Otay Municipal Water Clean Water Bond Fund. Total eligible project cost is estimated at $864,850.

The construction grants, which are approved by the State Board, are for facilities which are consistent with the water quality control plan for the San Diego Basin formulated and adopted by the California Regional Water Quality Control Board, San Diego Hillsdale sewage treatment plant will be abandoned and State Board.

State Senator James Mills said that the California Clean Water Bond Law of 1970, having septic tank failures, overwhelmingly approved as Proposition 1 on the November 3, 1970 ballot, will generate construction of about $1 billion in wastewater treatment facilities in California during the next several years.

Basic formula for sharing of the construction costs is up to 55 percent from the federal $475,660 is from the federal government, 25 percent from government and $216,212 is the state, and the remainder from the state's $250 million from local government.

Neighborhood Delineation Heads Planning Association Workload

BLOWING BUBBLES — Cheryl Homant, a member of the Mt. Miguel High School girls swim team, is seen as she completes the breast stroke in one leg of the individual medley for "cees". Miss Homant finished second in the race and Mt. Miguel beat El Cajon, 233-97 in the meet, held at Gunther Pool Thursday. Another meet, this time with El Capitan, is scheduled for this afternoon, and the Grossmont District Relays will be held Tuesday.

Old Time Days Help Requested

An organizational meeting to plan the 1973 edition of the Old Time Days Parade is scheduled for Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Golden Avenue School auditorium, Ivan E. McDermott, president of the Association said.

He said the group wants to encourage those who are interested to take part in planning next year's activities. Designed primarily to stimulate interest in the community, especially the business community, Old Time Days has developed into a large-scale operation requiring the assistance of many with a great deal of planning.

"There's a job for everybody who wants to help," McDermott said.

Those who would assist may contact the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce secretary, Mrs. Helen Myers. She will be available at 469-9621 9-12 a.m. and 1-3 p.m. daily except Saturday.

Authors Due In Lectures

A series of four lecture-discussions by nationally known authors titled "Meet Award Winning Authors," will open at 8 p.m. October 11 in the Fine Arts Recital Hall, Room 220 at Grossmont College, when journalist, magazine writer and novelist Robert Ardeman, discusses "How to Write (And Finish) A Book."

Ardeman, whose books are on the shelves of most libraries in the United States, has been a newspaper reporter and author for more than twenty years. He has two new novels scheduled for publication in 1973 and has contracted for three more books now being researched and written.

The public is invited to this lecture-discussion series presented by the college's Office of Community Services. There is no charge for admission.

Henry Boney Raps CPO Before Local Chamber

Henry Boney, County Supervisor of the Second District, on Thursday, told the directors of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce what is wrong with Comprehensive Planning Organization.

Boiled down, Boney said, it is a third level of government, not accountable to the people from whom they absorb taxes, and taking the responsibility already vested in the County Board of Supervisors.

Boney admitted that there were some areas where a more comprehensive government could be effective.

He suggested a restructured government made of councils dealing directly with locally elected officials. These councils would help develop programs tailored to the needs of the individual community. Each community could acquire the level of service which each felt it needed and to such an extent, control the tax rate.

The Board of Supervisors, he noted, is already applying county taxes and providing county services over exactly the same area delineated by CPO.

The Board also heard two officers of the California Highway Patrol explain their Accident Reduction Team project now in full blast over Lemon Grove streets.

Officers Pasley and Needham said their team of four, each with a patrol car, would be visible on every Lemon Grove street every day. Lemon Grove's traffic accident rate is the highest in the county, Pasley said. "By observing the cause and working out remedies, we hope to reduce the rate dramatically," he said. "A pilot program was introduced in Lakeside and those people have a much safer program," he added.

Bob Russell, Chamber chairman of the streets, parks and beautification committee, reported sadly how he had gotten a county run-around from the county departments responsible for implementing a main-street improvement. "Every time we tried to get a meeting together someone went on vacation. After vacations were over, somebody got transferred. It appears that no one in the departments we have been dealing with is allowed to discuss the project with any other. Each time we have to start over," he explained.

Henry Boney, his hackles bristling slightly, said to Russell, "When you want a meeting call my office. We'll call the departments to a meeting. They will respond!"

Chamber meetings are held on the last Thursday of the month at Pal's Cafe and are open to the interested public.

LG Doctors Pass Exam

Three Lemon Grove doctors, Michael Andrisani, Thomas P. Sheehan, and Sam W. Smith, all of the Lemon Grove Medical Group, have been named diplomates of the American Board of Family Practice as a result of passing a certification examination.

To achieve diplomate status, the doctors, through an intensive 2-day written examination, proved their ability in the areas of internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics-gynecology, pediatrics, psychiatry, preventive medicine and other traditional specialties and now are certified in medicine's newest specialty — Family Practice.

The doctors who have earned diplomate distinction are the vanguard of a new type of "people doctor" who accepts responsibility for the patient's total health care and serves as the natural point of entry into the complex medical system.

The specialists must continue to show proof of competency in the field of comprehensive, continuing care of the family by being re-certified every six years. No other specialty requires its diplomates to prove their competence on a continuing basis.

To qualify for the examination doctors either have completed a 3-year family practice residency or been in family practice a minimum of six years and successfully completed 300 hours of postgraduate medical education.

The Lemon Grove Planning Association is back on track and working toward a community plan this week, taking up neighborhood delineation.

Members of the executive committee met last Thursday afternoon and began preliminary mapping in the neighborhood delineation program. The program calls for breaking the community up into segments, then studying the needs of each segment.

Each segment will include people of the community who have things in common. For instance, one segment could be made up of a large number of families, while another could have many retired persons and few families.

The needs for each segment, of course, would be different. The area with retired persons would probably not be a likely area for an elementary school.

Other criteria in setting up boundaries for neighborhoods include what type of housing or business structures are contained. An area with a great number of duplexes and apartments would probably be grouped together, while areas with single family development would go together.

Considerations in setting up boundaries also include where main thoroughfares are located, as well as natural boundaries, such as canyons.

Once the community has been segmented into general areas of neighborhoods, each neighborhood can be further divided using many of the same guidelines, such as age of housing.

With the delineation completed, each neighborhood can be studied, and sites for such additions as parks and schools can be selected according to the most need. A school site would be more heavily considered where family dwellings are located than where trailer parks are predominate.

By studying each area, it can also be determined where growth is most likely, which aids in setting up a community plan. An area adjacent to a commercial district which contains mostly aging residential structures would probably be a prime site for new business structures in the years to come.

A similar area where older buildings are surrounded by new apartment complexes would be more heavily considered.

Lemon Grove Library Plans Holiday Fiesta

A fiesta will be held at the Lemon Grove Library October 14 from 2 to 6 p.m. El Dia de la Raza (Day of the People) is celebrated as a holiday throughout Mexico and South America.

The guest speaker will be Victor Orozco Ochoa, of the Chicano Cultural Center in Balboa Park, who will tell of the meaning of the special day.

The program will feature Eddy Torres-Campos, who is a flamenco guitarist, a Ballet Folklorico performed by Los Totecas en Aztlan, and music by the well known group Saur. A Chicano art exhibit, and a display from the Museum of Man will be two of the features inside the library.

The Lemon Grove Library is located at 7735 Pacific ave., phone 463-5982. The public is invited.

ered for development as a convenience shopping area.

An area containing a high percentage of vacant land and new housing tracts would be a good location for a park or school.

With segmentation underway, one problem was in evidence last week, as more concerned citizens are needed to help with the process.

With only a handful of residents at the meeting, all of the areas of the community were not represented, which means that persons from outside the area must determine the similarities and interaction in order to set up accurate boundaries.

A person from Vista La Mesa would probably not be as familiar with the segmentation of areas around Washington st. and Palm as somebody from that area.

The community will probably be divided into about 25 neighborhoods, and the best job could be attained if each of those neighborhoods was represented in the formation of boundaries by one or more residents.

In order to take part in the process, one need only show up at the next meeting and express a desire to help. Those involved do not have to be voting members or pay any dues.

In other association business, the group last week voted to invite Supervisor Henry Boney to the November 9 general membership meeting to discuss the controversial Comprehensive Planning Organization.

Additionally, it was decided to invite the California Highway Patrol to send a representative to the October 12 meeting to explain the experimental Accident Reduction Team program, which is just getting underway in Lemon Grove.

National Fire Prevention Week Is Oct. 9-14

The Lemon Grove and Spring Valley Fire Departments will be celebrating National Fire Prevention Week next week, according to Spring Valley Fire Chief Frank Berger and Lemon Grove Fire Chief Fred Dixon.

Berger last week explained some of the common causes of fires in Spring Valley. Most fires there are grass or brush fires, he said, started by children playing with matches.

Another major cause of fire is carelessness in the use of electrical appliances, resulting in structure fires. Heating and cooking are another cause of structure fires, as is the misuse of gasoline in garages where a water heater pilot light can set off a blaze.

Berger suggested checking electrical cords regularly, care in the use of stoves and ovens and a periodic check for accumulated grease and dirt, and use of flammable substances away from potential ignition sources.

In Lemon Grove, Dixon said, the major concern is structure fires, almost always caused by misuse of something or carelessness.

Dixon suggested that gasoline is best used only for running engines. Use of solvent for cleaning auto parts or paint brushes is much safer, he said. Use of anything flammable should be restricted to open areas.

Highlighting the week will be open house at the Lemon Grove Fire station, where parents will get a tour of the facility and refreshments, and a movie on fire safety will be shown.

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

In Mexico "hacer" is a source for construction of many idioms. "Hacer" literally means "to make" but it takes on many varied meanings when it is used in idioms. For example, "hacer la barba" suggests that a person is "playing up" to another person. Other uses of this are seen in "Maria hace la barba a Juan." (Mary plays up to John.) and "El siempre hace la barba a todos." (He always plays up to everyone.)

"Hacer la llorona" suggests "to play the cry baby." This may be seen in expressions like "Ella siempre hace la llorona." (She is always such a cry baby.) and "El sabe hacerse la llorona." (He knows how to play the cry baby.)

"Hacer guaje" would be idiomatically translated "to play dumb." There are many ways to express this. Several examples are "Ella hace guajes cuando quiere algo." (She plays dumb when she wants something.) and "Vamos a hacer guajes y a ver que aprendemos." (We are going to play dumb and see what we learn.)

A dramatic contrast is brought out in the idiomatic expression from central America which compares "una aguja" (a needle) with "un machete" (a machete). They have a saying — "hacer de una aguja un machete" which literally means "to make a needle out of a machete." This might be equivalent to our English saying "To make a mountain out of a mole hill." We might hear this idea expressed in conversation with in the phrases "No vamos a hacer un machete de una aguja." (We are not going to make a machete out of a needle.) or "No vale la pena hacer un machete de una aguja." (It is not worth making a mountain out of a mole hill.)

Additional practice phrases are listed below for your continued learning pleasure. They reflect some of the idiomatic phrases that use "hacer." A recorded voice says them for you when you dial 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "No haga guajes." (noh ah-gah WAH-hehs) for "Don't play dumb."

Say "El hace guajes." (EHL AH-seh WAH-hehs) for "He plays dumb."

Say "Ella hace la llorona." (EH-yah AH-seh lah yoh-ROH-nah) for "She plays the cry baby."

Say "No haga la llorona." (noh AH-gah lah yoh-ROH-nah) for "Don't be a cry baby."

Say "No hacemos para atras." (noh ah-SEH-mohs PAH-rah ah-TRAHS) for "Let us not back out."

Girl Scouts Launch Ecology Action Projects

Girl Scouts are launching a series of Eco-action projects in the San Diego-Imperial Council as part of their "Reclaim America" program.

The "Eco-line," a telephone hotline featuring ecology tips 24 hours a day was opened Monday. "The Eco-line is directed at what residents can do individually to preserve the environment," stated Lilian Allen, La Mesa, chairman of the Council's Eco-action task group. "The eco-line will be used on Monday of each week to announce service projects aimed at youth to let them know what's available and who to contact in order to get involved."

The hotline will feature projects from other ecology and community service groups in the area. The eco-line number is 298-8395, originating from Girl Scout Headquarters.

The Scouts are also involved in a cooperative newspaper and aluminum can recycling effort to promote greater local recycling effectiveness.

Scouts man bins at Mission Valley Shopping Center and the College Grove Shopping Center on Saturdays from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. for newspaper and the aluminum can recycling programs sponsored by Papakube Corporation of San Diego and Alcoa.

The Scouts have maintained their own aluminum can bin at Scout Headquarters in Balboa Park during the past two years for local efforts in the ecology program.

Navyman Anthony Ciotti Retires After 28 Years

It's been said that a man's life sometimes goes the full circle before his career ends, and that holds true for Navy submarine veteran Lieutenant Commander Anthony Ciotti of 1467 Madera st., Lemon Grove.

He retired Sept. 29 in ceremonies at the San Diego Navy Public Works Center aboard the Naval Station after 28 years. His relief has not been named.

A part of the retirement ceremony included sideboys made up of Navy Civil Engineer Corps officers serving with the Navy Public Works Center. A retired Navy Chief Boatswain Mate, now a Navy civil service employee with PWC, piped Ciotti ashore.

His career started as a Seaman attached to the Navy Civil Engineer Corps and participated in Seabee Boot Camp in April and May 1944. At retirement it's Lieutenant Commander Ciotti, again attached to the Navy Civil Engineer Corps. He was the lone Navy line officer assigned with PWC.

Serving as Public Affairs Officer with the Ballast Point Submarine Flotilla One, he was requested by the Bureau of Naval Personnel to take on his latest job. After reporting to the Public Works Center, one of his first efforts was finding leased housing available in the civilian sector. He leaves behind a smooth-running Housing Referral operation he's helped create that's had a significant impact on the Navy here.

"You're only as good as the people who work for you. In my office it's been a highly-successful team effort. It's always been a discussion situation where we talk over problems. Of course, the final decision has always been my responsibility but the mission has always been to help the Navy family now when he lets his needs be known," Ciotti explained.

During his assignment he's additionally served as Chairman of an ad hoc sub-committee on housing in San Diego County. He was also assigned to the Comprehensive Planning Organization on housing in the County.

He was serving aboard Navy destroyers when he was selected for "duty in submarines." He first served as an enlisted Torpedoman and later changed his rate to Quartermaster. In 1960 he was commissioned Ensign.

"We were granted Ensign rank before attending Officer Candidate School. It was kind of humorous at the time when a young Navy ensign tried hard to figure out why there were so many old ensigns running around the area," he said.

According to his record, on being accepted for the Submarine Service, he qualified in 30 days without ever having attended Submarine School, which is the normal routine. After training the average submariner qualifies in six months.

Another past achievement was that as Acting Executive Officer and Officer in Charge of the pre-commissioning detail for the first of a new class of submarine.

At another time he became the Navy's first Limited Duty Officer to serve as Senior Scheduling Officer with the Commander Fleet Training Group, Pacific Fleet in 1963 and 1964.

Ciotti plans a professional singing career after his retirement, he said, which will include four operas per season with the San Diego Opera Company at the Civic Theatre.

Singing is nothing new to Ciotti, who was the featured performer in Guam's largest night club while on duty there.

In the past he's performed, in company with his long-time friend Joe Fos now the featured performer at Sea World's Atlantis, at fund raising benefits for various charities such as the Cancer and Heart Fund.

During a previous San Diego tour of duty he put on a show a month for the Red Cross at the Balboa Naval Hospital, and produced and directed two three-hour Christmas shows at the Naval Hospital Theater.

Additionally, he has appeared on television and at numerous live benefits assisting in raising funds for the USO.

Your Heart Fund contribution was there when researchers developed the heart-lung machine to take over the body's breathing and circulation, enabling surgeons to repair defects inside the heart.

LG NAVYMAN RETIRES — Navy submarine veteran Lieutenant Commander Anthony Ciotti of 1467 Madera st., Lemon Grove retired last Friday in ceremonies at the San Diego Navy Public Works Center Headquarters aboard the Naval Station. He served as the Command's Navy Housing Referral-Assignment Officer.

Rummage Sale Planned By SV Welfare Group

The annual rummage sale of the Spring Valley Community Welfare, Inc. will be held October 13 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and October 14 from 9 a.m. to noon at the Spring Valley Community Hall on Orville st., just behind the Spring Valley Shopping Center.

The rummage sale, which has been particularly noted for school clothing bargains, will be the Community Welfare's only fund raising event this year.

WEDDING APPROACHES — Mr. and Mrs. George B. Mallec, of 752 Conception ave., Spring Valley announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Kathleen Elizabeth, to Ronald D. Cheatham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Cheatham, of Covina, California. The bride-elect is a graduate of Mount Miguel High School. Cheatham is a graduate of Mt. San Antonio Junior College and attended San Diego State. He is currently with the United States Air Force serving in Oklahoma. The wedding is planned for October 21 and the couple will reside in Oklahoma.

The proceeds have been designated to finance Christmas baskets of food and toys for the needy in the area as well as for general emergency aid to those in need throughout the year.

PTA's and other organizations in Spring Valley will be sponsoring clothing drives through October 11 for the sale. As the Welfare no longer has drop boxes, residents of the community may help by taking re-salable items directly to the Community Hall October 10, 11, or 12 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

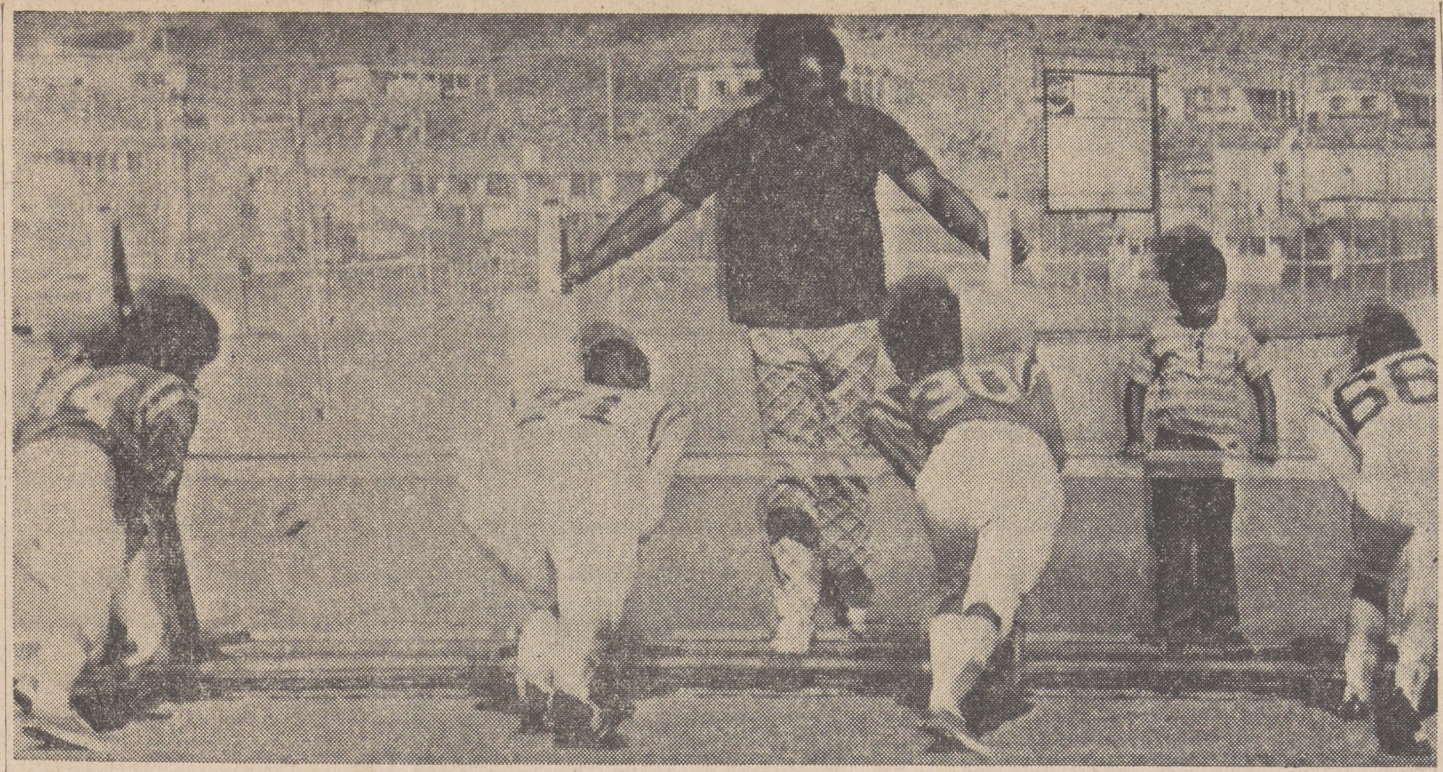

Last year's rummage sale helped to finance these Welfare projects: emergency groceries and other aid for 100 people, $210; 133 Holiday Baskets, $435.32; sixth grade camperships, $132.80; Girl Scout Camperships, $55; and scholarships, $300.

Other sources of income include donations, payments from the sale of the Thrift Shop, and interest. Local schools have conducted canned food drives to aid the grocery supply.

The Spring Valley Community Welfare consists of volunteer representatives from Spring Valley PTA's, churches, clubs and service organizations as well as interested individuals who serve as members-at-large.

They meet bimonthly at the Community Hall on the third Tuesday morning of the month. Members are currently studying ways to better serve the needy elderly who are often overlooked because they frequently live alone and seldom tell others of their needs.

Anyone desiring further information about the Spring Valley Community Welfare, Inc. is invited to contact president, Mrs. Roy Watkins at 469-2270.

'MOM' WARNER — Los Toros and La Mesa Pop Warner Football Club members will square off October 14 at 7 p.m. in the Monte Vista High School stadium for a "Mom" Warner game as a fundraiser for the two clubs. The moms will wear regulation uniforms and pads and will be playing tackle — not flag or touch. Both teams have been working out three times a week for the past couple of weeks, and a visitor to workout session last week was San Diego Charger Ernie Wright and son Howard, who gave pointers to the moms while getting a free ride on "the sled." Getting in the work are Claire Cranker, left, of Los Toros, Doris Woempner, of La Mesa, Eda Edwards, of Los Toros, and Fran Wellnitz, of La Mesa. Head referees for the game will be former Chargers Emil Karas and Don Rogers. Radio personalities Art Way, Happy Hare, and Ernie Meyers will serve as honorary coaches and announcers for the contest. Ticket information is available from Frank Shughrue at 294-4782.

Craig Howry Installed S.V. Kiwanis President

Craig H. Howry a resident of the Mt. Helix area and a retired business management and industrial relations consultant, assumed the presidency of the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club at an installation dinner held at the Ox Bow Inn last week.

Howry was chairman of the successful Spring Valley Kiwanis Kid's Day which hosted over 2,000 youngsters to a day of fun, food and frolic September 23 at La Presa Junior High School.

The 1972-73 Kiwanis theme of "Share Your Life" was the keynote of Howry's inauguration talk during which he outlined a schedule for an active community service program for the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club.

The Spring Valley Club is the originator of the project "Share The Plover" which has been successful in providing agricultural equipment for use in the educational program for the Future Farmers of America at the El Cajon

Gas Bills To Feature New Rate System

San Diego Gas & Electric Company announced it is changing to a new method of billing gas customers that will assure them of getting more uniform value for their money.

The new billing system will be based on the amount of heat in the gas used rather than on the volume, and the amount used will be stated in "therms" instead of cubic feet.

The change from volumetric to therm billing was ordered by the California Public Utilities Commission August 29 in its decision granting the company a rate increase, which became effective September 22.

San Diego Gas & Electric Company said the first bills based on therm rates were mailed last week.

"Therm rates," the PUC said, "provide a better measure of gas service to retail customers of a gas distribution utility and are a just and reasonable form of rates."

NEW PRESIDENT — Craig H. Howry, retired business manager and industrial relations consultant, was last week installed as President of the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club at the group's annual installation dinner at the Ox Bow Inn. Other officers include Glenn Munyon and Gene Pierson, vice presidents; Alex Struthers, secretary; and Russ Jackson, treasurer.

Miguel Band In Fallbrook

Mt. Miguel High School's marching band performs in its first competition of the 1972-73 season Saturday morning in the Fallbrook Parade.

Director Dean Immel and the 120-piece Matador musical group are to step off shortly after the 11:30 a.m. starting time. The band is to be preceded by the 10-girl Landerette front unit and followed by the Miguel cape corps.

John McPherson is the drum major, Debbie Kelling leads the Banderettes, and Sherry Antey heads the 23-member cape corps.

A special concert and parade is to be presented by the Miguel band at the Marine Recruit Depot next Thursday at noon, according to Immel.

Students in the music department have begun selling tickets to the 14th annual Autumn Band Jamboree to be held in Aztec Bowl on the San Diego State University campus, Nov. 4, at 7:15 p.m.

Tickets are $1 for adults and $.50 for children. Mt. Miguel will be one of eight area bands represented in the jamboree.

INDY CHAMP — Parnelli Jones, winner at Indianapolis Speedway in 1963 and past victor of the Mexican 1,000 off-road race, will be chairman of the March of Dimes charity walkathon, scheduled to start from the Fashion Valley Shopping Center, Nov. 12. Jones is shown pasting a March of Dimes emblem on Mario Andretti's Indianapolis-type racer, of which Jones is co-owner.

Census Bureau Schedules Consumer Survey For October

Questions on consumer buying and home improvement expectations will be asked by representatives of the Bureau of the Census in this area during October, according to C. Michael Long, Director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Los Angeles.

The survey is taken four times yearly as part of a nationwide effort to guide governmental agencies in developing programs based on consumer spending patterns.

A sample of residents in this area will be asked if they expect to buy a house, car, or major household appliances during the next year and if they have made recent purchases of these items. Homeowners will be asked about home improvements and repairs made during the last three months.

Japan has about 40 traffic fatalities every day.

Parnelli Jones to Head March of Dimes Walk

Parnelli Jones, an exponent in the field of horsepower, will lend his support to an event that offers — at best — foot power.

The defending Mexican 1000 off-road race champion and one time Indianapolis 500-mile winner accepted the chairmanship of the March of Dimes charity walkathon, scheduled to begin from Fashion Valley Shopping Center No. 12.

"We hope thousands of walkers will take part in the event," said Jones, who is also preparing for defense of his Mexican 1000 title. "Each walker will obtain a sponsor and acquire a donation for each mile covered."

"The money, in turn, will be forwarded to the March of Dimes campaign in its annual fight against birth defects diseases."

SV Rotary To Meet

The weekly luncheon-meeting of the Spring Valley Rotary Club will be Friday, at 12:10 p.m., in the Ox Bow Inn, Campo rd. All Rotarians are welcome, said president Greg Barker.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Hugh Frank, M.D., who will be talking about a proposed "burn" clinic for the San Diego area.

TREE GROWTH — Mt. Miguel High School biology instructor Charles Engberg, left, checks growth of one of 34 Monterey pines and liquid ash trees with student Tim Neel. The trees were planted after students of Engberg and Pat Price undertook a soil testing program which turned up a surprisingly acid nature of the soil. Trees planted in the past were prone to dying off, but the soil testing program indicated that the wrong types of plants were selected. The new selection of trees were purchased from Hunter's Nursery with $200 donated by the class of '72 and another $200 netted in the school's aluminum can drive last year.

Gulls Pre-lim Season Against Kings Tonight

The Los Angeles Kings square off against the San Diego Gulls in the Sports Arena tonight at 7:30 p.m. This is a first for local fans as the National Hockey League makes its initial appearance in San Diego.

The Kings have been known for the past several years as one of the weaker teams in the Western Division of the NHL. Formed in 1967 when the league expanded with six new teams, Los Angeles had the scoring punch but fell down on the defensive end of the game.

Los Angeles has yet to finish in the playoffs but there is talk around the league that this could be the season. Now in their sixth training camp, the Kings have a new spirit and determination to win this season.

The Kings are led by former Gull Gary Edwards who will be starting in goal on October 5. Rog'e Vachon, reportedly one of the highest paid players on the Kings is the other goalie. Terry Harper, one of the top defensemen in the National League and for years a member of the Montreal Canadiens will be leading the defense for Los Angeles this season. Other players to watch for are defensemen Harry Howell and ex-Buckaroo Barry Long; high scoring forwards Ralph Backstrom, Butch Goring and Whitey Widig.

Jamul 4-H Club to Meet

The Jamul Rancheros, a 4-H club, will be guests Tuesday evening of the Jamul 4-H clubs meeting at the school at 7 p.m. Awards will be presented by a member of the banking association.

Visitors and prospective members are invited to participate.

Toreros Try For Three-in-a-Row

A pair of upset victories has catapulted the University of San Diego football team to a 2-1 season mark but a crack at three in a row may be a devilishly tough task.

The Toreros move northward Saturday night to meet Cal State Los Angeles and the Diablos are primed for a big effort. They rebounded with a win over Cal Poly Pomona last week after suffering an opening defeat at Nevada-Las Vegas.

Los Angeles coach Foster Andersen has a blend of 18 lettermen to go with a fresh crop of young ballplayers including 15 freshmen. Quarterback Jim Sanders directs the Devils with halfback Claude Watkins their top runner.

USD, with a 14-6 triumph over Claremont and a 19-7 verdict over Occidental after a loss to UC Riverside, hopes to keep its streak alive with a balanced running and passing attack.

Quarterback Henry Sintay had his best effort last week with 10 completions in 18 tries against Oxy. Receiver Bill Washington caught five of the 10 for 42 yards.

Following this week's contest, USD returns home for an October 14 battle with LaVerne College.

Direct dialing telephone service has been expanded in West Germany.

SCORING STRIKE — Monte Vista receiver Savvas Marinos beat his man beautifully on this pass play, then latched on to the Art Spahr aerial and loped into the end zone to score the Monarch's first touchdown of the evening in the first quarter of last Friday's game with La Jolla. The Monarchs scored twice in the first period to take a 12-0 lead, then flopped as La Jolla scored 26 points in the next three quarters to claim the victory, 26-12. Monte Vista returns to action tomorrow night against Santana at Monte Vista. Kickoff is 8 p.m. (Mark Coffin photo)

Griff Harriers Sweep, Gridders Lose By Point

Grossmont College athletic teams continued along the same course in the scorebook last week, as the cross country team swept a triangular meet and the football team fell two points short of victory.

The Griffin harriers, led by super star Terry Cotton, scored a perfect 15 points in a meet with Citrus and Chaffey, to continue unbeaten and unchallenged on the year.

Cotton, with the meet wrapped up and well on the way to smashing the course record, even slowed down and waited for teammates Ed Mendoza and Tom Lux, as all three clasped hands at the finish line. All three now own a share of the course record.

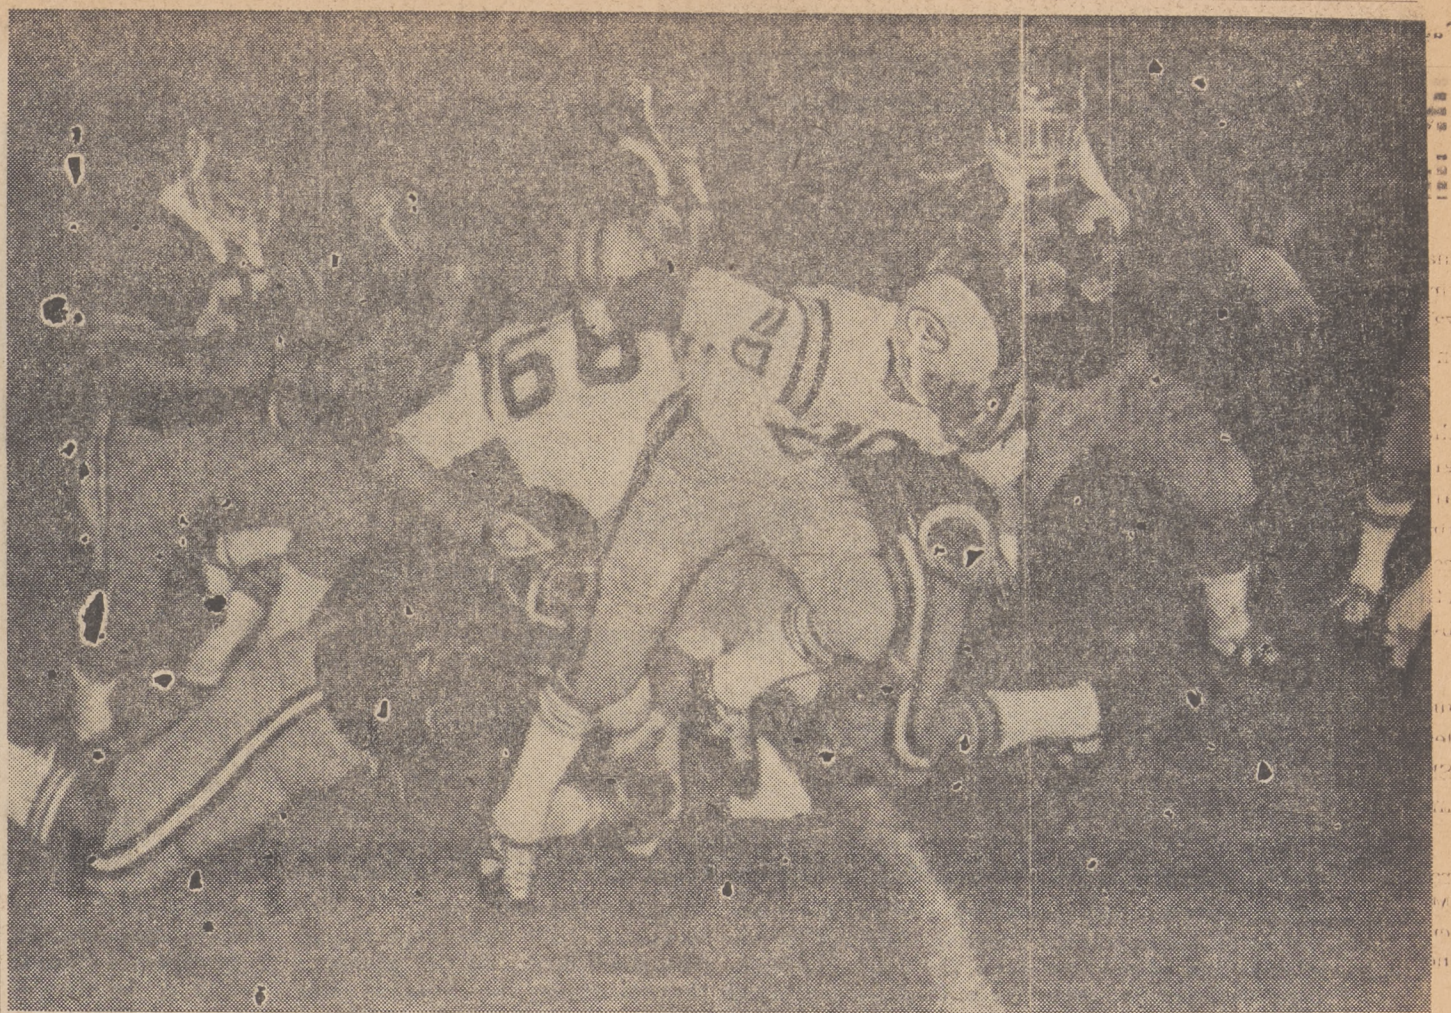

Completing Grossmont scoring were Larry Stone and Joe Stubbs, who tied for fourth place.

In football action, Grossmont appeared to be in the win column for the first time of the season against the Southwestern Apaches, leading 13-7 with but seven and a half minutes remaining in the game.

At that point, the Griffs recovered a fumble in Apache territory and proceeded to run down the clock. Faced with a fourth and six situation, the Griffs made a boo-boo by calling a slant pass play, which was intercepted and ran back for a touchdown, knotting the score at 13-13. The extra point was good, giving Southwestern the victory.

Interception was a bad word for Grossmont, as Southwestern's only other score of the game was also credited to an interception, when Apache Don Mitzelfelt grabbed a Mike Rundle aerial and returned it to the one yard line, where the Apaches scored one play later.

The Griffins will entertain Palomar at Aztec Bowl Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

RUNNING ROOM — Grossmont College running back Larry Olson hunts for room to run in football action last Saturday night at Southwestern College. The Griff's led by Olson's power running, managed two touchdowns, but Southwestern won the game, 14-13, on a last quarter interception that went for a touchdown. Grossmont will be back home Saturday afternoon in Aztec Bowl, hosting Palomar at 1:30 p.m. (Mark Coffin photo).

Aztecs Seek Revenge In San Jose Game Saturday

Revenge has to be the key word for San Diego State University's football team Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in San Diego Stadium when the Aztecs meet San Jose State in a Pacific Coast Athletic Association game.

The Aztecs are seeking revenge for a 45-7 defeat at the hands of the Spartans last year in San Jose. In that game, San Jose held San Diego to 49 yards rushing, the lowest total in the NCAA last season. The loss was also the worst for a State club since the Aztecs dropped a 60-0 game to Fresno State in 1960.

State has great momentum coming into the contest, having shutout Kent State University 14-0 Saturday in Ohio to run the Aztec record to 3-0. The shutout was the second in a row for the Aztecs (North Texas State fell 25-0 last week). The last time a San Diego club managed back-to-back shutouts was in 1970 when the defense stopped North Texas State 23-0 and Cal State Long Beach 35-0.

The Aztecs have managed back-to-back shutouts 13 times since 1921 and the all-time shutout record is four in a row in 1937.

"Saturday, we have a little score to settle," State Coach Coryell said. "San Jose State made us look pretty bad last season and I don't think I'll have to say much to get the guys up for that game. We're hoping that the weather is dry for a change because we'd like to throw the ball more than we have. It's a shame that we practice six months in the sun and then it rains for our first three games."

San Jose State dropped a hard fought 23-21 game to PCAA foe Fresno State in San Jose Saturday night and comes into the game with the Aztecs 2-2.

Grid Season to Open; Title Team Missing

By John Nicholson

The Grossmont League football race gets underway tomorrow night, but there doesn't appear to be a team capable of winning the title.

Six of the eight league schools lost last week, and two of the league schools expected to be the best took the worst shellings. El Capitan, expected to be among the top four finishers, lost, 37-0, while Grossmont, picked for second place earlier, took it on the chin, 26-6.

Granite Hills and El Cajon Valley were the only two winners, as the Eagles won a defensive battle with San Diego, 7-6, while El Cajon topped Mission Bay, 23-7.

Other games saw Mt. Miguel lose to Sweetwater, 33-13. Monte Vista dropped a 26-12 decision to La Jolla. Santana beaten by Morse, 18-7, and Hoover beat Helix, 6-0. Grossmont lost to Kearny and El Cap lost to Madison.

Tomorrow night's games will include Mt. Miguel invading El Capitan. Santana at Monte Vista, Grossmont at Granite Hills, and El Cajon at Helix.

The game that could be a big factor in the title chase is the Grossmont and Granite Hills affair, with the unbeaten Eagles taking on defending CIF champion Grossmont. If Granite Hills is able to get by the so far so-so Foothillers, the Eagles will have an excellent shot at going all the way.

The rapidly improving Helix Highlanders, although twice beaten in pre-season action, will take on undefeated El Cajon at Helix. Helix is favored to win the game, but the Highlanders have had offensive problems and the game could turn out interesting.

Possibly the closest game of the week will be at Monte Vista when the Monarchs host Santana. Monte Vista is the "lightning bolt" of the league with long pass specialist Art Spahr at quarterback. Santana has a good pass defense, but has had trouble stopping the run.

Another pass-oriented team, Mt. Miguel, will take on the El Capitan Vaqueros, but the contest is not likely to be a close one. El Cap has scored only twice in two pre-season games, with both scores coming against a shabby Mar Vista team. Additionally, the Vaos have had trouble stopping passes.

Nick's Picks: Mt. Miguel, 20 over El Cap; Monte Vista, 12 over Santana; Granite Hills, 14 over Grossmont; and Helix, 21 over El Cajon.

Monarchs Drop 26-12 Decision To La Jolla

Monte Vista High School's football team lost its first game of the season last Friday night, 26-12 at the hands of La Jolla.

The Monarchs looked fine in the first quarter and appeared headed for victory on the good passing arm of Art Spahr. Spahr hit Savvas Marinos from 15 yards out early in the quarter, then came back minutes later to Mike Davis for another 15-yard scoring strike.

With two TD's on the scoreboard, Monte Vista had all the makings of a rout, but something happened as the second quarter got underway. La Jolla's running game began to click and the Monarch ground game fell apart.

La Jolla turned the game around with an interception on the Monarch 33 yard line and was on the scoreboard quickly. La Jolla continued a torrid rushing game in the second period as Pete Taylor dodged his way through the Monarch defense for a 55-yard scoring run.

Down 13-12 at halftime, Monte Vista tried to get things going in the third period, but a pass interference penalty set up a La Jolla field goal and another interception cost the local team a touchdown. The final La Jolla score came on a 34-yard field goal after a Monte Vista fumble.

Monte Vista will be back in action tomorrow night when the Monarchs host the Santana Sultans in the league season opener. Kickoff is at 8 p.m.

U-Rent, Lake Murray Tied For First Place

The latest standings in the La Mesa Recreation Department's slow-pitch softball leagues show Jim's U-Rent and Lake Murray Little League on top in the "A" division. Aero Manufacturing in first place in the "B" competition, and Foodmaker running away with the "C" league title.

In the "A" division, Jim's U-Rent blanked Oasis Cafe, 2-0, while last place Tourquoise Lounge shocked first place Lake Murray, knocking the Little Leaguers into a tie for first.

"B" league play included a 1-0 win for Aero over Lake Murray Kiwanis, moving Aero into first place, half a game in front of idle Fletcher Hills Little League.

In the "C" league, Foodmaker won its ninth straight game to move two and half games ahead of second place Optimists and three games up on third place Revenuers. In other action, the Revenuers beat the Optimists, 13-4.

Spring Valley Team Drops to Second Spot

The Spring Valley team in the International Girls Softball Winter League slipped up last week and fell into second place with a 4-1 record, a game behind the La Mesa team.

In division 3, Lemon Grove continued in last place with a 0-4 mark.

Last week's highlights included a triple play by the La Mesa team as it beat Spring Valley, 4-1, to take over sole possession of first place.

The U. S. State Department was once known as the Department of Foreign Affairs.

New Arena Announcement Boosts Con's Ticket Sales

Dr. Leonard A. Bloom, owner of the San Diego Conquistadors of the American Basketball Association, has revealed the site for his proposed new sports complex.

The 20,000 seat, oval arena will be built on a 2,100 acre site located near Bonita. The facility will be part of a new $200 million recreational, commercial and residential community to be called "Sports World". It is served by a network of highways which puts the new arena only 15 minutes from downtown San Diego, the airport and the city's burgeoning suburbs.

Bloom, who has sought a home for his ABA Conquistadors, hopes to attract major league hockey to the arena which is scheduled for occupancy in mid-October, 1973.

Season ticket sales for the San Diego Conquistadors' 42 home games in Peterson Gym got a shot in the arm with the announcement of the new sports complex.

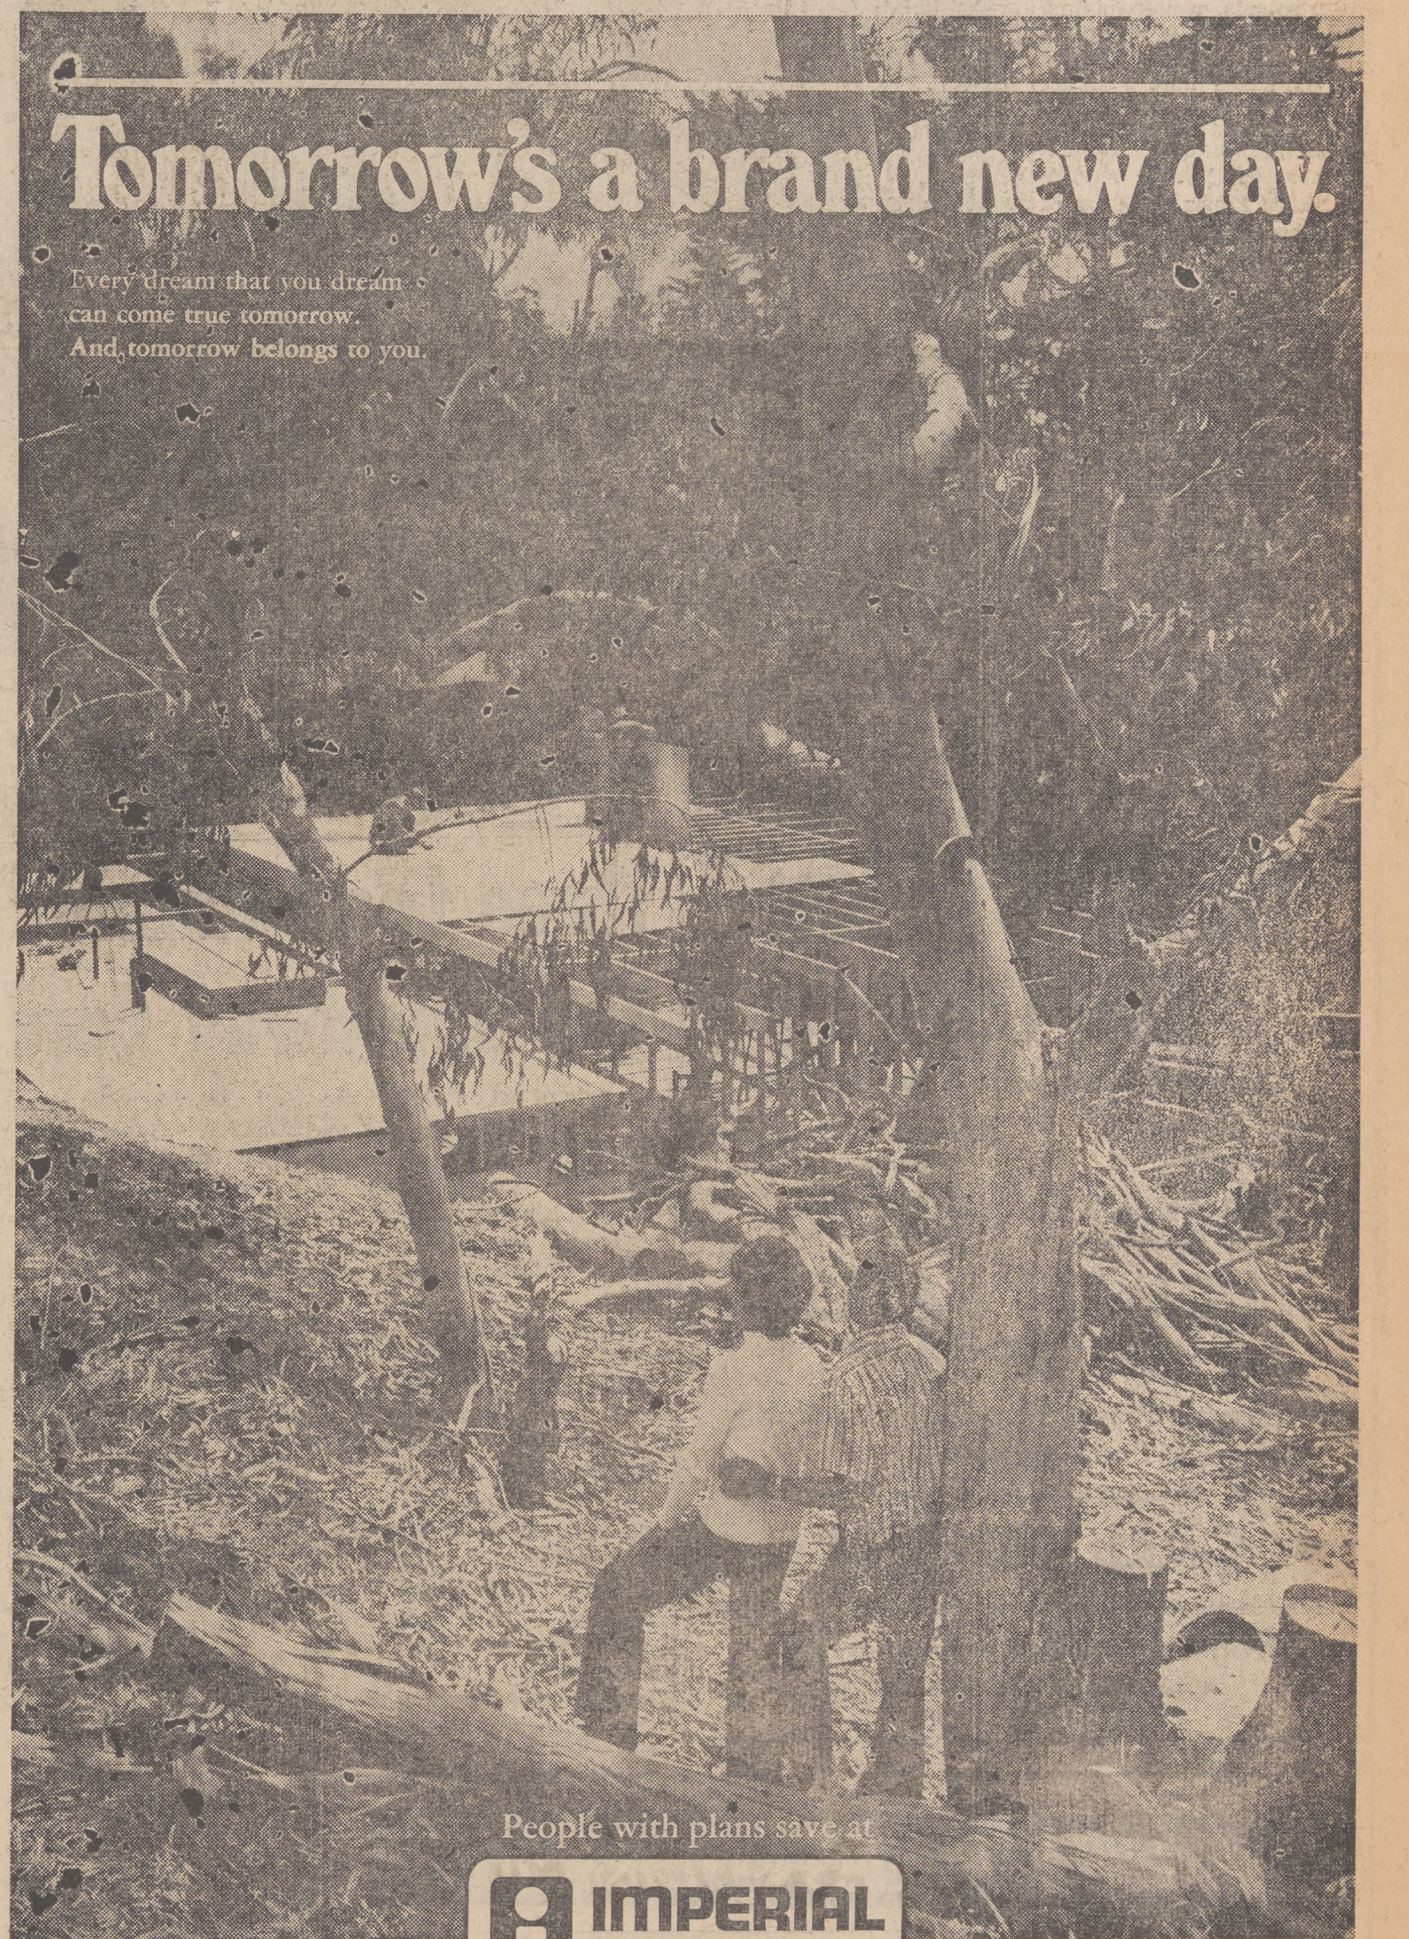

This year's season ticket purchasers will get location priority in our new arena," said Bloom.

STOPPING DISTANCE — Youngsters at San Altos Elementary School last week learned about stopping distances for vehicles, bicycles and pedestrians from the California Highway Patrol's Accident Reduction Team. In photo is a scene from an exercise which teaches children the distance a car takes to stop while traveling at 25 miles per hour. The exercise calls for a teacher, in this case Mrs. Connie Hale, to pull a string which sets off a bumper-mounted firing apparatus which fires a piece of chalk into the pavement. CHP officer Carl Bailey, who drives the patrol car, then steps on the brake as fast as he can, setting off a second piece of chalk, then stops the car. The distance between the chalk marks on the pavement is the distance the car travels during the "reaction time", which is the time it takes a driver to hit the brakes after seeing a danger situation. The distance between the first chalk mark and where the car stops is the total braking distance. Officers also performed other exercises which showed stopping distances of bicyclists and pedestrians walking and running.

Hegemon Lewis, Quincy Daniels Give Boost to Coliseum Card

A Double Main Event card, plus 3 preliminary bouts at the San Diego Coliseum, 15th & E street, has been scheduled for October 13, at 8:30 p.m.

Scheduled for the double-header main event is Hedge-mon Lewis vs. Jose Luis Baltazar, and Quincy Daniels vs. Jorge Rodriguez. Both bouts are 10 rounds, welterweights. Hedge-mon Lewis is the No. 1 ranked welterweight contender in the world, with a record of 41 and 4. His 4 losses are distributed among Adolph Pruitt, Jose Napoles, and Indian "Red" Lopez, with Lopez taking credit for 2 wins over Lewis.

Jose Luis Baltazar from Mexico City, is capable of KO-ing any boxer with a record of 12 KOs in his string of 21 wins against 16 losses.

Quincy Daniels comes to the Friday night fight with a record of 12 wins and 1 loss. His most recent outing was an impressive victory at 43 seconds of the first round over Arturo Lomeli of Mexico. Jorge Rodriguez is a tough boxer-puncher from Mexico.

Address Change Form Available At DMV Office

It has never been more important — or easier — for California motorists to inform the Department of Motor Vehicles that they have moved to a different address, according to L. D. Townsend, manager of the local DMV office, at 4265 Palm ave., La Mesa.

As a service to each motorist whose drivers license is about to expire, DMV is mailing a renewal reminder about two months before the expiration date.

The notice also doubles as the driver's application for renewal, cutting up to 15 minutes from the time he will have to spend at the DMV office.

However, thousands of these notices are being returned to DMV because the driver is not being reached at his last known address.

The notices go by first class mail, and are forwarded when possible, but even the Post Office can't find many people who have left no forwarding address.

In November, DMV will mail out millions of registration renewal forms to California vehicle owners. Many whose new addresses aren't known to the Department won't get their notices in time, and could wind up paying penalties.

DMV has an address change form on which can be listed up to four drivers in a family, and up to four vehicles the family may own. "People may pick up one of these forms at our local office," said Townsend, "or call us and we'll be glad to mail them one."

One California family in five moves each year. Not nearly that many remember to notify DMV, even though the law says that California vehicle owners and drivers must send the Department their new address within ten days.

Matador Lead Disappears As 'Devils' Win

The Mount Miguel High School football team opened up playing solid ball control last Friday night, but speed and the bomb ended an embarrassing evening, 33-13, at Sweetwater High School.

The Matadors began the game with a 90-yard march for the first score of the game, capped by junior quarterback Jess Jenner's seven-yard pass to Ed Morris.

The next time Mt. Miguel had the ball, Jenner commanded another scoring drive, this time hitting Jack Mumav with a 12-yard aerial for the touchdown.

Everything would have been just fine if the game had ended there. On the kickoff after the score, Sweetwater's Leroy Brown grabbed the ball on his own 12-yard line and raced for an 88-yard TD.

That turned things around for the Red Devils.

The first half ended with no further scoring, but Sweetwater countered with three touchdowns in the third quarter — all on long plays from scrimmage. A 56-yard run, a 31-yard run, and a 72-yard pass play put the game out of reach.

Another 33-yard run in the final chapter put the icing on the cake for Sweetwater and for Brown, who tallied a total of three TD's for the evening. Mt. Miguel's problems stem from a speed question. Although the Matadors are among the biggest teams in the county, Sweetwater's quickness spelled bad news for the Mt. Miguel defensive line.

After a week of work, the Matadors will have another chance tomorrow at 8 p.m. as the league season opens at El Capitan. El Capitan has had trouble stopping the pass play, so Jenner will probably come out throwing.

PacTel Sends Refunds As Credits on Bills

Pacific Telephone began cranking out refunds last week to more than 500,000 San Diego County customers with an eye toward finishing most of the job within a month.

The refunds, which will exceed $163 million on a state-wide basis, were ordered by the California Public Utilities Commission following a State Supreme Court decision.

Although the state ruling came in June of this year, the period covered by the refunds extends from July 23, 1971, when the contested rates became effective, to Aug. 8, 1972, when the PUC effected the refund date.

For the most part, refunds will take the form of credits on telephone-users' bills. The rebates will amount to about $12 for the average residential customer and more for business since their bills generally are larger.

Bill Fochler, general commercial manager for PacTel's six southernmost counties whose office is in San Diego, said refunds started with bills dated Sept. 22 and continue through bills dated Oct. 20.

He added that the first bills reflecting credits arrived in households and businesses about Sept. 29. He explained that there is roughly a seven-day period between the time the bill is dated and the time it reaches its destination. Bill preparation and mailing account for the difference.

If a customer's refund is greater than the current bill, the credit will be applied to the following month's bill, Fochler said.

He pointed out that there are some former subscribers entitled to refunds who no longer live in San Diego County or who reside in the county but no longer have service.

The company, Fochler said, will send checks to these persons at their last known addresses.

Race Question Topic Of Forum Series Talk

"Bridges to Understanding," a public forum series that explores crisis areas in contemporary issues here and abroad, will continue when Donald Warden proposes "A Permanent Solution to the Race Question," at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Fine Arts Recital Hall at Grossmont College.

Donald Warden, attorney, author, radio and television personality and chairman of the board of the Black and Brown Trading Stamp Company, was also one of the originators of the Afro-American Association. Warden describes the Afro-American Association as "primarily a self-help movement based on stressing economic and educational development for black people."

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Howard University, Warden received his law degree from the University of California, Berkeley and is presently senior partner and founder of Jones, Jenkins and Warden, a domestic and international law firm specializing in corporation and commercial law with special emphasis on Africa and Central America.

He is the originator of the television program "Black Dignity," now entitled "Black and Brown Presents" that reaches approximately 75 center of the country.

The public is invited to hear one of the country's outstanding young black men discuss one of the most critical domestic problems. There is no charge for admission.

College Art Gallery Opens

Grossmont College opened its art exhibit season Monday when a special exhibit of Afghan Handicrafts was unveiled in the college art gallery.

The exhibit, composed of hand embroidered tapestries and hand woven rugs, was collected by former Grossmont College student Randy Fenwick, while living and traveling throughout Afghanistan the last two and one-half years.

Fenwick, of Lemon Grove, attended Grossmont College for two years prior to his residence in Afghanistan. He returned to the United States last month with his collection of rugs and wall hangings. Fenwick learned to speak the language and plans to return there next year.

The public is invited to see this unusual collection of hand-made articles from Afghanistan. Viewing hours are from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., today and tomorrow. There is no charge for admission.

Three Local Racers Top Speedway Card

A pair of action packed racing programs are planned for this Friday and Saturday at the South Bay Speedway in Chula Vista, starting Friday night at 8 p.m. with a triple-header Motorcycle racing program.

A field of 75-riders has entered the Friday evening show, which includes a 22-event racing card on both the 1/2 mile flat-track and 5/8th mile steeplechase course.

An added attraction will be the first appearance of Sidehack motorcycle racing at the South Bay track. This features a specially built motorcycle, with both a rider and a passenger on it.

Double Portion

When making beef stew, the California Beef Council home economists suggest cooking a double portion and freezing half of it for mealsize or individual servings. Package and label it for a future beef dinner which will require little preparation.

County to Open New VD Clinic

A new venereal disease clinic is being opened by the County of San Diego Department of Public Health to help combat the county's growing VD epidemic.

The clinic will be held in the Health Department's South Bay Health Center, 263 Fig. ave., Chula Vista, and will be open each Tuesday from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The new clinic joins six other VD clinics operated by the Health Department throughout the county.

Dr. J. B. Askev, director of public health, said the clinic is being opened to make diagnosis and treatment for VD more accessible to residents of the South Bay area. He noted that the VD rate in the county is continuing to rise, with cases of gonorrhea reaching a record monthly high in August. During that month, 584 cases were reported to the Health Department.

"The services of the South Bay VD Clinic will be confidential and available to anyone," Askev said. "There will be no charge and no appointment will be necessary."

He said the greatest problem area has been making women aware of the fact that they could have gonorrhea without any outward symptoms. "Often they never know that they have the disease until they have infected a male who usually has painful symptoms."

Soccer Season Starts Saturday

For approximately 400 La Mesa-Spring Valley youngsters October 7 is a long-awaited day. Saturday is the opening day of play for the Suburban Youth Soccer League.

The season will get underway with games at Sunset Park in the Lake Murray-La Mesa area, San Diego State University field behind Peterson Gymnasium, and a field to be assigned in Spring Valley.

The Suburban Youth Soccer League is relatively new in San Diego soccer play, beginning its second season. The league has increased in size from two prep and 18 pee wee teams last season to three prep, ten pee wee, and ten midweek teams this season, despite losing six pee wee teams to the newly formed Golden Grove League.

Returning to play this year in the prep division are the Torinos of Spring Valley and the La Mesa team from Parkview Junior High. New in the preps are the Crusaders, composed of both Spring Valley and La Mesa youths.

In the pee wee division, coming back from Spring Valley are the Hawks, the Roadrunners, and the Rigs. The new pee wee team is the Royals of Spring Valley.

All ten teams in the midweek group are new this season.

Games will be played on Saturdays.

Gala Set to Dedicate New Plaza de Balboa

The Covey of the San Diego Natural History Museum, together with the Women's Committee of the Fine Arts Gallery, the Serra Museum, and Kleewyk of the San Diego Museum of Man are holding a joint party to dedicate the newly completed Plaza de Balboa and to turn on officially the great fountain on the afternoon of October 20 from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Pete Wilson, Mayor of San Diego, will activate the 60-foot fountain with the help of Fred Heilbron whose active career in helping San Diego solve its water problems has earned him the title of "Mr. Water."

The fountain is the second largest in the State of California and will be illuminated by golden spotlights so it will stand out at night at the east end of the new Plaza de Balboa, next to the Natural History Museum.

The new Plaza covers over 120,000 square feet, with rusted inlaid tiles and flower borders. Newly planted trees are interspersed throughout the area with the almost completed Space Theater on the south side.

Beer is served in two out of three American homes and enjoyed by more than 70% of the adult population.

'Conservative' Chargers Try Colts, Domres Sun.

Coaches love fullbacks, who rip and smash and block and catch and gain 197 yards in a big game.

Harland Svare loves Cid Edwards.

"He's what a fullback is supposed to be," said the San Diego Charger coach of the new Charger fullback, "After almost three weeks on the bench with a knee injury, he had some kind of day." The "day" included a solo decision to run a punt — a decision that lost the Chargers the ball. Then came a surprising period of conservatism designed to settle the day with a tie.

Edwards rushed for 97 yards in 18 carries, advanced 100 yards with six passes and scored once as the Chargers began a perilous four-game road trip with a 17-17 tie against the Oakland Raiders before 53,455 at Oakland Coliseum Sunday.

Chapter two in the "Adventures of Harland's Hobos" will take place in Baltimore's madhouse Memorial Stadium Sunday. To the shrine of Johnny Unitas, travels John Hadl only 58 yards short of the 25,000-yard holy grail. The Chargers (1-1-1) battle the Colts (1-2) at 11 a.m. (PDT). Former Charger Marty Domres is scheduled to work the quarterback position.

Ross Porter and George Ratterman are announcers for NBC's telecast over KGTV-10. Stu Nahen and Ralph Lawler broadcast the game over KDOE, KFI and the Charger network.

It will be San Diego's first visit to Baltimore and the second meeting between the teams. In the opening game of 1970, the Super Bowl-bound Colts won at San Diego, 16-14, on a last-second 28-yard field goal by rookie Jim O'Brien. That game also was notable for Charger touchdown bombs of 65 and 43 yards from Hadl to Gary Garrison and the end of the 96-game pass receiving streak of Lance Alworth.

Sunday's game will have as added attractions the return of all-time great Baltimore tight end John Mackey and corner-back Leonard Dunlap wearing strange San Diego lightning bolts. Meanwhile, the Chargers will be greeted by Unitas' understudy, Marty Domres, who served three years as Hadl's understudy.

If there is a "book" on the teams, Mackey and Domres know them well. However, some pages of the Charger script have changed even since Domres left balmy La Jolla Shores for chilly Chesapeake Bay in August. Who would have recognized the once happy Charger last Sunday?

L.G. Man Graduate Of Emergency Course

A Lemon Grove man was among those students who graduated last week from a radiological meter operators course at the County's Emergency Services Training Center at Gillespie Field, according to county administrative officer for emergency services William B. Marty.

The local graduate is James W. Pitt, 7090 Casa Ln., Lemon Grove.

The monthly training course includes discussion on nuclear phenomenology, radio active fallout, protection from the effects of fallout, how radiation affects living tissue and instruction in the proper use of radiation detection instruments, Marty said.

In addition to the regular field exercise the class participated in a simulated "Peace-time Incident" involving a transportation vehicle and the special containers presently used for the transportation of radioactive isotopes.

Each graduate is qualified for an assignment to one of the 300 radiological monitoring stations throughout the county, Marty said.

Approximately 3,000 persons have received training in radiological monitoring through the County Emergency Services Training Program, according to Marty.

Junior Golf League To Tee Off Sunday

The 14th Annual San Diego Junior Golf League will tee off the 1972 season Sunday at 8 a.m., as the Stardust junior golf team meets the La Jolla team at La Jolla.

Also scheduled for opening day at noon are Torrey Pines at Stoneridge, Coronado at Chula Vista, and San Carlos at Balboa Park.

Against Oakland, San Diego set club records for (1) fewest passes with 13 (old record 15 vs. Buffalo in 1960) and (2) most rushes with 50 (old record 49 at Oakland in 1968).

Iron Mike Garrett set an individual record for most rushes with 29 (old record 27 by Gene Foster at Oakland in 1968).

Garrett gained 72 yards and ranks No. 4 in the AFC in rushing with 256 yards. But it was Edwards, the 6-2, 203-pound former Army sergeant acquired from St. Louis this year, who grabbed the spotlight with his outstanding play and a couple of daring runs from punt formation.

Ribbon Cutting Signals Opening Of Potrero Park

Another link has been forged in the chain of San Diego County Parks with the official opening of Potrero Regional Park.

The 110-acre site was recently opened with ribbon-cutting ceremonies presided over by Chairman of the Board of Supervisors Harry F. Scheidle and Second District Supervisor Henry A. Boney, assisted by Park Rangerette Roxanne Leal of Clairemont.

Located 42 miles east of San Diego, just north of Highway 94 at the community of Potrero, the park has 18 trailer spaces with water and electrical hook-ups. In addition, there are 14 primitive tent sites. More spaces will be added in the future as the park expands, according to Lloyd T. Lowrey, acting director of the San Diego County Department of Parks and Recreation.

"Because of the projected continued rural setting," Lowrey said, "all usable acreage in the site is programmed for full development for medium density use."

"With Highway 94 offering such a pleasant and scenic drive for weekenders and with the border town attractions of Tecate just minutes away, we also have installed a large picnic area. Barbecue pits, play yards, and hiking trails provide appeal for all ages," he said.

Potrero Park, at an elevation of 2,300 feet, is designed as an all-season recreation site. Overnight camping fees presently are $2 for trailers and $1.50 for tents, but will double next camping season. No charge is made for day use and picnicking.

It is not on the park reservation system at present, but will be open Friday, Saturday, and Sunday and holidays until it is completed next summer.

Traffic Rules Q's and A's

Each week a series of questions and answers will be published in these columns. Readers are urged to call or write in questions to which they want an official answer. Answer seekers need not identify themselves. Address "Traffic," P.O. Box 127, Lemon Grove, CA 92045 or call 469-0101.

You are putting emphasis on bike riders but horse riders in the southeast section of Lemon Grove are creating traffic hazards, too. Don't traffic rules apply to horses as well as bikes?

Yes, horseback riders have all the rights and privileges and must obey all applicable laws that apply to drivers of motor vehicles — and bicycles.

Traffic from a gasoline filling station on the north side of Broadway opposite Kempf creates a problem when drivers emerge from the station onto Broadway. Because there is no thoroughfare, traffic from the station is unexpected. Making the situation worse, traffic guide lines on the roadway cause a wide, sweeping left turn from Kempf — directly into the path of traffic emerging from the station. What is the law?

Vehicles entering the roadway (Broadway) from public property (gas station) must yield to all traffic on Broadway or Kempf. Vehicles from the station must obey the traffic signal at the southeast corner of Broadway and may turn right to Broadway on red if clear.

RELIGIOUS MUSIC — Evangelist Dave Smith, from the religious music group "Dove", was on hand at Mt. Miguel High School last week for an assembly. "Dove", invited to the school by a campus club, was in town from Houston for a concert in San Diego. Attendance at the assembly was voluntary. (Vince Broesch photo)

Anti-Pollution Project Added To L.G. Youth Center Programs

The Lemon Grove Youth Center will receive an ecological boost starting this week — in a round-about way.

The boost comes from a dry cleaning firm in Lemon Grove which will pay one dollar a hundred for old metal clothes hangers. The money will be paid to the Youth Center in the name of the donors of hangers. Hangers then will go to a metal salvager for recycling.

The firm, Dutch Cleaners, of Lemon Grove, does not re-use hangers. It costs more to clean them up then buying new ones, Vincent Baruch, co-owner of the firm said. "But we're getting them recycled, and that is important," he added.

The idea came from an editorial published last week in this newspaper. It concerned several ways in which pollution could be reduced. One was the recycling of clothes hangers. The project stemmed from the Public Service Council of Washington. They supplied 104 hints and connected anti-pollution with a cartoon figure — Woodsy Owl. The cleaning firm's other owner, Bill Vandenberg, said he hoped tons of the hangers would come in. "We're (the U. S.) already ten years behind in pollution control."

The Youth Center, a meeting place for early-teenaged youngsters, has been existing on contributions for more than a year. Part of these funds are from this newspaper — the proceeds of a subscription project.

For each new subscription obtained by the newspaper's solicitor, fifty cents is handed to the Center for its operation. The money is used by Dale Wood, the center's director, for on-going programs.

Hangers may be taken directly to the cleaners at 7870 Broadway.

This week's list of families taking part in the subscription operation include:
